Regional, Islamabad, Newspaper

ISLAMABAD - The National Commission on the Status of Women (NCSW) and the Pakistan Poverty Alleviation Fund (PPAF) have joined hands to host the National Women's Conference. This pivotal event is set to take place on March 4, 2024, at the National Library in Islamabad, which epitomizes the shared vision of both organizations to empower women for a prosperous Pakistan.

Chairperson NCSW, Nilofar Bakhtiar, will be the chief guest of the conference, and CEO of PPAF, Nadir Gul Barech will shed light on the importance of collaboration among the public, private sector, and civil society in empowering women to contribute to the national economy.

The gathering will serve as a vibrant forum, which will bring together distinguished figures from government, international dignitaries, the development sector, civil society organizations, youth, and academia to engage in meaningful discourse on advancing women's roles in society. In a celebration of youthful ambition and creativity, students from women's colleges in the twin cities will partake in various competitions, while young female entrepreneurs will be celebrated for their efforts that have significantly impacted socio-economic development within their communities in all over Pakistan. The conference will also shed light on the national narratives 'Paigham e Pakistan' and 'Dukhtar e Pakistan', initiatives that promote unity, peace, social cohesion, and the empowerment of women. The National Women's Conference is poised to inspire a new generation of women to pursue their ambitions fearlessly and contribute to the economic and social development of Pakistan.

ISLAMABAD's bright sunshine under a clear sky on Monday marks the end of the heavy rain and torrential rain that hit the city during the last few days, providing much-needed relief to the millions of the Federal Capital who were bearing the brunt of the weather.

A large number of people came out of their homes and offices during the afternoon to enjoy the warmth of the sunshine which was seen during the last days in continuous temperature dropped to very low level during the rain.

The country had witnessed torrential rains along with hailstorms and heavy snowfall over the hills during the last few days which not only damaged the city life and traffic but also complicated the city as it was to stay almost out of the state due to continuous rain with the rain.

The persistent rain and cloudy weather complicated the work of the people, especially children to stay within homes to stay safe from heavy rainfall weather effects.

However, the bright sunshine with gentle southerly wind not only cooled the heated and sunny atmosphere but also renewed the joy of the people who were fed up with staying behind closed doors in homes of Pakistan's Islamic Republic, a government spokesman said.
