Pakistan Poverty Alleviation Fund (PPAF) and China Three Gorges South Asia Investment Limited (CSAIL) have signed a Grant Agreement to renovate and rehabilitate Government Primary School Daad Bux Chang in Jhimpur, Thatta, Sindh, under TGW's CSR initiative. The 12-month project will include constructing classrooms and a toilet block, building a boundary wall, planting trees, installing an RO water filtration system, hiring teachers, and running community mobilisation and enrolment campaigns.

Speaking at the signing ceremony, Chief Executive Officer PPAF, Mr. Nadir Gul Barech, said the agreement formalises a meaningful partnership between PPAF and CSAIL, reflecting a shared commitment to sustainable development, community wellbeing, and inclusive growth.

He noted that CSAIL's engagement in Pakistan extends beyond renewable energy generation to responsible corporate citizenship. "Supporting education infrastructure is a strategic CSR priority, as it lays the foundation for human capital development and intergenerational progress," he said.

Highlighting the initiative's importance, the CEO stated that the school's reconstruction addresses a critical gap in educational infrastructure in a remote, underserved area. "A safe, functional, and child-friendly learning environment is essential for bringing out-of-school children back into classrooms, particularly in rural settings. This initiative will directly benefit local children while strengthening community ownership and trust," he added.

stronger connectivity fast.

CSAIL Deputy CEO Liu Yonggang highlighted that the initiative aligns with CSAIL's CSR goals while supporting renewable energy development in Pakistan. He noted that the project coincides with the 75th anniversary of China-Pakistan relations.

CSAIL operates the 720MW Karot Hydropower Project under CPEC and the 150MW Three Gorges Wind Power Projects in Jhimpir, Sindh, contributing clean energy to Pakistan's national grid. PPAF continues to strengthen local infrastructure and promote sustainable livelihoods across the country.
